CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH DECIDES AGAINST PURCHASE OF BUILDING ON WEST CAMPBELL AVENUE SITE

At a business meeting of the Congregational Church of Campbell held Tuesday evening, disapproval was registered against the purchase of the Deckert property on West Campbell Avenue for the construction of a new church.

An option on this property had been obtained by the trustees without knowledge of covenant restrictions limiting to single family detached dwellings any buildings constructed on the premises. Although some members felt inclined to purchase the property anyway, with the view to holding it in the hope that restrictions might sometime be changed, the majority voted their disapproval of this purchase.

The action followed a public hearing Monday night at City council meeting in which a ten-member delegation spokesmanned by R. F. Gibbons, 36 S. Milton, objected to the zoning aspect which they felt would set a precedent for building churches in residential property, and which, in their opinion, would result in decline of property values.

The opposition said they had no objection to the denomination, but did feel that church activities and added traffic would create an additional hazard to children of neighboring property owners.

Rev. Corwin H. Olds, pastor of the Congregational Church, had submitted to the council tentative plans for the building with parking facilities for 48 vehicles. Dr. Olds, at the council meeting, mentioned that he had conferred with Nestor Barrett, at that time a member of the County Planning Commission, who was of the opinion that churches and schools go well together and that most churches were in residential areas. He said he had also conferred with Laurance J. Hill, superintendnt of th Campbell Union High school district, who thought that the church location was desirable.

City council had decided to hold the church application pending investigations of Hedegard subdivision restrictions.

KIWANIS WIN IN SOFTBALL ANNUAL SERIES

Four home runs, three errors, seven two-baggers, one three-base hit, and many aching backs marked the 23-12 Kiwanis victory over Campbell Rotary Club in their third annual softball contest last Thursday evening at the grammar school softball diamond.

The Rotarians seemed to have it in the opening frame as they grunted and bunted and waddled around for an eight-run total while the Kiwanis drove home four.

Hyde, Raffanti, Jones, Willoughby, Baptist, Maderis, Arends and Jeffers all made the circuit for the Rotary while Clarence and Lloyd Nelson, Carl Field and Art Mayo chugged home for Kiwanis.

That was it for the Rotary, for they only scored four more runs during the rest of the five-inning game.

Pitcher Herb Neale of the Kiwanis went the route, pitching a stellar game after a rough first inning. Rotarian Cel Gerevas, after struggling through the first few innings, surrendered the box to Tony Raffanti, who gave his all for the remainder of the game.

But it wasn't enough, as the Kiwanians went on to score six in the second, six more in the third, one in the fourth, and ended up strongly in the fifth with six runs.

Perhaps the high point in the hotly-contested fued was a home-run by Carl Field, who, after giving the ball a mighty clout, made it all the way around the bases in high gear. Art Mayo for Kiwanis and Merv Willoughby for Rotary, were responsible for the other circuit clouts.

Credit must be given to the stellar third-base work of Merv Willoughby of the Rotary, who started in at first and switched over to third, fielding many hot line drives, as the Kiwanis batters slammed them at him.

Outstanding for Kiwanis was Art Mayo, who poled out two home runs, and Carl Field, with his afore-mentioned home run.

The "Whiffenpoof" award went to Bill Monez, Rotary, who went down swinging three times before Neale's slants.

The Rotary outfield made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in skill. Bill Maderis, it is claimed, was wearing bi-focals, as a result, several hard-hit balls went flying far overhead after his running up for them. Tumbles were many—in some instances, the whole outfield, almost, spilled head over heels, like chasing a greased pig.

Overall game standing is one game apiece and one tie. No casualties were reported.

San Francisco has delayed action at least a week on request for $100,000 toward a fund to purchase the heart of Butano Forest for a state park.

The 1040-acre virgin tmber land is owned by Pacific Lumber, which started logging operations last Tuesday.

The state has offered funds up to $600,000, but contribution must be matched by local funds. A spokeman for Butano Associates said about $800,000 may be enough to buy the section suitable for a park. The lumber company has asked $1,200,000.

CAMBRIAN PARK DISCUSSES PLEA TO ANNEX TO L. G.

Cambrian Park Improvement Association met last night for its regular monthly meeting to discuss a suggestion that Cambrian Park annex to Los Gatos.

General feeling of the group was that annexation to any city was not desirable at this time.

Richard Paulen, chairmen of the steering committee, was contacted by members of Los Gatos City Council who indicated that they were interested in embracing Cambrian Park along with the Blossom Hill section.

There was also mention at the meeting of new legislation from Sacramento of a new type of "borough" government, whereby the neighboring municipalities render service on a fee basis.

Joe Tichnor, area civil defense representative, asked for volunteers for block wardens as part of the preparedness program.

At the next meeting, August 5, the association will show a film on civil efects of an atom bomb explosion.

LOCAL BOYS COLLECT $20 FOR PALSY FUND

Richard and Stephen High eight and ten-year-old sons of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Alexander, Hazelwood Ave., donated $20.75 to the cerebral palsy fund last Saturday.

After watching the radio and television program from San Francisco, the boys asked their mother if they could help by canvassing the San Tomas area. With their consent and armed with an empty coffee can on which Mrs. Alexander had typed a note, the boys mounted their bicycles and four rain-drenched hours later, they had collected the money, which was sent to fund headquarters in San Francisco.

The boys are members of Scout Cub Pack 35.

MORRIS VOSSLER IN S. J. HOSPITAL RECOVERING FROM RUPTURED APPENDIX

Morris Vossler, son of Rev and Mrs. O. B. Vossler, is recovering his family reports, after being taken to San Jose Hospital last Saturday with a ruptured appendix.

Doctors at the hospital said the appendix had been ruptured for at least two days and may have been brought on by lifting and other work he had been doing on his automobile.

Morris has worked for the circulation department of the Campbel Press.

Mrs. CORA KAUFMANN recently entertained members of the Santa Clara-San Mateo Associate Matron's Association, OES, in her Vessing Road home.

CITY COUNCIL STUDIES BIDS FROM TWO GARBAGE COLLECTION AGENCIES; THREE NEW ORDINANCES READ

Although Campbell garbage ordinance went into effect yesterday, the City Council's decision to award a contract was deferred until next meeting to study two proposals submitted Monday night.

Bids were received from Los Gatos Scavenger Company, which now services the area, and from John Yerkovich, Rincon Ave. rancher.

Meanwhile the Los Gatos firm has agreed to continue to furnish service on city's waiver of ordinance provisions requiring payment to the city.

Marc Vertin, representing Los Gatos Scavenger Company, submitted the following proposal: Company will pay city monthly (a) $125 if customer fee is 75 cents; (b) $165 if fee is 80 cents; (c) $200 if fee is 85 cents; (d) $235 if fee is 90 cents (e) an additional 12½ percent for every 100 customers served over present number, 1122.

John Yerkovich, 740 Rincon Avenue, represented by Attorney Norman Stoner, offered an $1800 a year contract, or 12 percent of gross receipts if monthly householder fee was $1.00. Service would include weekly pickups and a bi-monthly rubbish collection.

Yerkovich said that if dual system were adopted, burning of trash should be banned by the city and collection made mandatory.

Both spokesmen outlined dumping and equipment facilities; both agreed to operate within provision of ordinance and to furnish performance bonds.

Los Gatos firm said it could start service imediately. Yerkovich asked for a 30-day organizational period, but said he could operate at once if necessary.

City Clerk Viola Krug tendered her written resignation to City Council, giving ill health as her reason for not being able to carry out her duties.

Ada C. Nelson will act as deputy clerk until council appoints a permanent replacement in event Mrs. Krug's resignation is accepted.

Council adopted a resolution to require 100 percent bonds from subdividers.

Council gave first reading to food handling, septic tank, and dog licensing ordinances.

Disposition of Congregational Church application for building on West Campbell Avenue, opposite west end of Campbell Athletic field was deferred until a title report has been submitted.

Council also heard a report from City Attorney Joseph A. Bonacina concerning uses of the $28,306 State "in lieu" funds received by the city last week.

"The test to be applied in the use of these funds," Bonacina said, "is whether or not the state is the principal beneficiary of the expenditure."

By extension of this interpretation, money could be used for street repair, enforcing health and building regulations, where State statutes are involved, police department salaries if used for control of traffic and for fire protection. In that connection, money could be used for fire hydrant program now under way.

Money may not be used for payment of administrative salaries unless work was performed involving State regulations.

Bonacina advised against practice of putting in lieu funds into city's general use funds.

AREA PHONE SERVICE TO BE EXTENDED

Campbell area, Saratoga, San Jose, and Los Gatos, will receive extended telephone service sometime in August pending completion of additional trunk lines and extensive central office equipment installation at Los Gatos Telephone Company.

The service, now nearing completion, will enable subscribers to those areas to dial directly to the other exchanges using a "directing digit" denoting the location. For Campbell it will be "7," for San Jose, it will be "9", and for Saratoga, "8."

This direct dialing is in line with the nation-wide system in which each exchange will have its own combination of dialing digits.

Coin-operated phone users in Los Gatos will be able to call Campbell, San Jose, Saratoga, as well as Los Gatos for a nickel until equipment adapting local coin phones for a 10-cent minimum is installed later this year.

The new project is expected to increase the number of calls to three and one-half times the number now being made. This will require the addition of several trunk lines. Also the complex equipment on which these added trunk lines will terminate must be installed. In addition, "connectors" for 700 additional main phones are being readied.

Campbell Maps To Be Readied By July 15

Six thousand maps of the City of Campbell, compiled by the MacAbee engineering firm of Palo Alto, and printed by the Campbell Publishing Company, will be available free of charge on or about the 15th of July.

The map lists present city streets, shows the incorporated area and lists streets still on the drafting boards, but expected to be cut within the next two or three months. Maps were underwritten by Campbel merchants, from whom they may be obtained.

Maps published by the Campbell Publishing Company in 1950, and the only maps to be published locally, are exhausted. While there still are some in circulation, they have been rendered obsolete due to incorporation and the many new subdivisions in the area.

Business Women Hear Talk On Mental Health

Dr. Ernest Clark, staff psychiatrist at Agnews State Hospital, was the speaker at the last dinner meeting of the Campbell Business and Professional Women's Club. Prevention of mental illnesses which touch three out of every ten persons during their life time was Dr. Clark's topic. Many of these illnesses are a retreat by the subconscious to a happier phase of life when a balance between emotions cannot be reached. The three steps in preventing lack of adjustment as outlined by Dr. Clark are to recognize that any person who can get along has a tough mind—lots of sanity; each individual is a part of society and must be aware of those less adjusted and bring health to them, and that there is a necessity to learn much about hygienic living. The most important phase of mental hygiene is the elimination of fears which stem from feelings of inadequacy and competition. Dr. Clark reported the success of the pilot type of therapy he has initiated at the Agnew Hospital but pointed out it was very slow because of lack of funds requiring all work to be on a voluntary basis.

Mrs. Joan Fell Lauber, director of Volunteer Service at the State Hospital at Agnews, gave a short talk on the tremendous need for volunteers to assist in recreational and therapeutic activities at the hospital. The success of these techniques has proved their value, but they need both men and women who will give a few hours a month. Outside contacts are most inspiring to persons with mental illnesses in aiding them to readjust by relearning that people are interested in helping them to again become a part of the community.

Mrs. Lucy Alderman, health and safety chairman, aranged the meeting and introduced the speakers.

New members will be welcomed in to the Campbell BPWC at the next meeting. It will be a dessert meeting July 9 at the home of Marian Hill, 56 N. Milton Avenue.

Henley Home Is Setting For Hamburger Fry

A hamburger barbecue potluck at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Henley followed the first meeting of Job's Daughters following the installation of Janis Henley as Honored Queen on June 14.

Swimming had been planned as feature of the June 28 meeting, but as the weather was inclement, volley ball and table tennis took the place of aquatic sport, and television was enjoyed as well in the Henley living room.

De Molay guests were honored at the party as an expression of gratitude for their support of the installation. Twenty-one members of De Molay were invited. Fifty members of both organizations and Job's Daughters Council participated in the gay social event.

Assisting in preparing and serving the buffet luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison, Mr. Les Titus, Mrs. Thelma Hansen, Mrs. Robert Marcum, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Henley.

The tables were bountifully laden with barbecued hamburgers and "trimmings," tossed salads, potato salads, olives, pickles, potato chips, cakes, hot cocoa and coffee.

At the afternoon meeting, Honored Queen Janis invited members of the group to initiate potlucks, swimming parties and overnight parties whenever summer programs allow for such activities. The Honored Queen will plan and organize suggested events.

Discussion was held on the variety show to be given in October, and the Honored Queen appointed three chairmen for the production: Marilyn Graham, dance routine; Joline Howard, orchestral numbers; Beverly Strandberg, vocal numbers. Further plans will be made at meetings in the Fall.

Mr. and Mrs. FRANK TOOLEY and son, TIM, of Compton, are spending a pleasant week with Mr. and Mrs. L. C. FAIRCHILD of No. Second street.

American Business Behind The Scenes

BY REYNOLDS KNIGHT

Take it easy and live!

That was the good advice handed out to businessmen at the American Management Association's convention here. It was suggested that only the mortician business benefits from business leaders who insist on doing everything themselves and who won't take enough time off for relaxation.

Excellent performance is not based on "star" performers, but on teamwork where everyone shares the responsibility and authority, Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Company, said.

In other words: Get smart—go slower, do better, and live longer.

SUPER CARTEL—The International Materials Conference in which the United States and 27 other member nations are participating is undergoing closer scrutiny. John L. Collyer, president of a large rubber company, has called the IMC a "super cartel" and labels it "a mechanism that could be used to force a basic revision in America's competitive economy." What makes such charges even more serious is the fact that the United States, according to Mr. Collyer, is participating in this precarious inter-governmental setup without the specific approval of Congress.

The International Materials Conference, through its committees, apportions available supplies of some scarce, essential raw materials; directs in a general way the usage each country may make of such materials, and seeks to stabilize prices. In essence, says Mr. Collyer, it is a controlled-material program on an international scale "with all the defects inherent in such chemes."

Both the House and Senate have already taken steps to end U.S. participation in this type of agreement.

THINGS TO COME—For summer fishing, a transparent lure—in which a minnow, nightcrawler or any other kind of bait can be placed—will make bait go further. The fish can be hooked but cannot nibble a free meal ... A portable gummed tape dispenser for stockrooms and offices is on the market. The device has a spill-proof water tank and measures, moistens, applies and cuts tape in one operation ... An automatic counter for testing Beta-ray contamination of laboratory workers has been introduced ... A belt shortener for the mens' furnishings trade reduces the size of the belt and punches new holes in a jiffy ... Businessman's delight, a water cooler that also dispenses coffee (black, or with cream or sugar or both) will be on the market soon. It should help end time losses due to "coffee breaks."

LIFE-SAVING FLUID—Private industry has now come up with a product that may prove to be the answer to plasma shortages in the event of disaster. Schenley Laboratories, Inc., of Lawrenceburg, Ind., recently sold 1,200,000 pints of a synthetic blood extender called PVP Macrose to the Federal Civil Defense Administration for emergency stockpiling.

Though not intended as a blood substitute, PVP-Macrose can be used in an emergency until supplies of whole blood and plasma are made available. A single 500 cc injection will maintain circulating volume in an injured person for a period of 12 to 24 hours.

The synthetic solution does not require refrigeration, is inexpensive and can be made in virtually unlimited quantities. Despite the stockpiling order, however, donations of whole blood through the Red Cross are just as necessary as ever. Reserves of blood plasma depleted by the Korean conflict must be replaced.

STANDARDIZE—If you take a trip abroad, one of the first things you will notice is that your electric shaver, radio or iron doesn't work as well—if at all—when plugged in to foreign power.

Yet you don't have that trouble in America.

The answer is, of course, standardization and interchangeability. Most automobile tires here fit most cars. Typewriters have essentially the same keyboards. You don't have to shop around for a special light bulb to fit your lamp or a special can opener to open food cans—most any will do.

This standardization is one of the most important factors in the efficient, powerful manufacturing system in the United States because it permits the interchangeability of parts and products which has made American markets so vast and flexible.

Yet, on an international basis, this country is far behind in cooperating on standards, as was pointed out at a dinner for delegates of the International Organization for Standardization. America heads up the work on only eight of 76 technical committees of I.O.S. and participates actively on only 15 others. The country that in the past has done most for uniform standards is now doing least.

BITS O' BUSINESS — Up to the middle of June approximately 34,500,000 tons of steel had been lost because of major strikes ... Eastman Kodak pays its 200th consecutive dividend tomorrow. It hasn't missed since it began paying dividends in 1902 ... May newsprint output in North America was at a record 599,412 tons ... Eigthy percent of all copper and aluminu mproducers are exempt from direct allocation control, as of yesterday. Only the biggest users must continue to apply for allotments.

Auto Sales Ruling Issued By State

Sales of motor vehicles in the possession of garage or repair establishments for the purpose of satisfying labor, materials or storage liens must hereafter be advertised in newspapers of general circulation in counties where the vehicles are situated and where the sales are to take place.

This was announced recently by the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

An opinion interpreting a point of law in Sections 427 and 428 of the California Vehicle Code addressed to Director of Motor Vehicles A. H. Henderson by Attorney General Edmund G. Brown. It emphasizes that sales at public auction are required for the purpose of achieving a fair price and protecting the debtor's interest.

Davidsons Visit Island Homes Of Local Couples

On their recent trip to the Hawaiian Islands, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Davidson spent a few hours with Archie and Mabel Keesling. They have a little home built by Keesling in a grove of coconut palms, papaya, banana and lauhala trees. Surrounding the house are gardens filled with orchids, hibiscus, plumeria, spider lilies, wood roses, and other exotic flowers and Island grow nshrubs.

The Davidson were served iced coconut milk, papaya juice and ground coconut on ice cream—all from the Keesling garden.

After visiting with the Keeslings for a time, the Davidson's went to see the Keesling's daughter Margaret and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Courtney.

The Courtneys have a home on a hillside. The large living room window faces the blue Pacific.

Huge bunches of bananas and trailing wood roses were ripening in the front garden.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Opinions expressed in letters to this department do not necessarily reflect the editorial policy of this paper.

Editor the Press:

About City of Campbell garbage disposal. My household has used the service of Los Gatos Scavenger Co. for many years. This service we have found highly satisfactory. Any extra service needed this company has rendered at low additional cost.

From my view, taking on the service of a completely new and inexperienced concern would be unwise. For a school, for instance, to accept a bid from an inexperienced contractor would be unthinkable.

Of course our fine City Council is also inexperienced, and should be expected to make mistakes. It will need our advice. Hence this letter, without apologies!

JOHN D. BLAINE,
Former Campbell
Justice of the Peace.

GUY W. SMITH HONORED AT MOUNTAIN VIEW

Guy W. Smith, adjutant of American Legion Post 596 of Campbell was honored at Mountain View Monday night at the 13th District meeting.

Smith received a citation for his many years of unselfish service as a rehabilitation worker at the veterans' hospital at Palo Alto.

The citation was presented by the director of the Veterans' Hospital.

Smith is presently second vice-commander of the district and is rehabilitation chairman.
